ORGANS

BRATTLEBORO.

VERMONT, U.S.A.

The Estey Organ.

ESTEY & CO. employ only the most skillful workmen in every department, use only the best and most carefully selected material, and perform with the unfailing precision of intricate machinery much of the work which is elsewhere done by hand. Accomplished inventors are continually on the lookout for any possible addition to or improvement in the machinery, and new devices are being constantly tried and accepted. No expense or encouragement is spared to attain the acme of mechanical ingenuity. In view of these facts, when it is considered that it takes six weeks to perfect a reed, that sixty trained men and women are constantly employed as tuners, in separate apartments, and that the same care is bestowed upon every part before it is sent out as completed, it is not difficult to appreciate the manifest superiority of the ESTEY ORGAN. Furthermore, it must be conceded that the leading improvements in Reed Organs of other manufacture have been, without exception, originated, perfected and introduced by Messrs. ESTEY & Co. Their instruments are simply unrivaled in America or Europe. Scientific men, inventors and manufacturers from all parts of the world have visited their establishment, and unanimously pronounce it unsurpassed for comprehensiveness and perfection of separate detail and general system. To this judgment is added the highest testimony from every part of this country and Europe to the exalted merits of the ESTEY ORGAN. Such testimony, coming from all quarters, is a test of value and approval which cannot be gainsaid. It is the voice of culture and refinement bearing proud witness to that truism, as old as human endeavor and human fruition, that only true merit achieves true success.

IMPROVEMENTS

CONTAINED IN THE ESTEY ORGAN.

THE PUBLIC MAY RELY UPON THE FACT, THAT, AS FAST AS REAL IMPROVEMENTS CAN BE PERFECTED, THEY WILL BE INTRODUCED IN THE ESTEY ORGAN.

Among the many important improvements already adopted in these celebrated instruments, particular attention is directed to the following :

The Patent Vox Humana.

This wonderful invention was perfected and brought out in the ESTEY ORGAN in 1865. It consists of a revolving fan, placed just back of the reeds, which, when set in motion by the appropriate stop, imparts to the tone a thrilling, wave-like effect, hitherto unknown in instrumental music. The control of this great invention was at once secured by Letters Patent, and its introduction was the signal for sincere congratulations on every hand. The best proof of its positive value and wide appreciation is found in the fact that, after a test of years, no organ is considered at all complete without the Vox Humana attachment. Its instantaneous success led other manufacturers to adopt various devices to produce the same effect by wholly unreliable and inadequate means. These were invariably only revivals of that old, worn-out idea, the "Valve," or "Clapper," or "Cut-off" Tremulant, and resulted in more or less complete failures. Purchasers of Organs should place no faith in the statements of interested parties, who claim for their so-called Tremolos the exquisite effect produced by the ESTEY VOX HUMANA.

IT IS UNDENIABLY THE FIRST AND ONLY MECHANICAL REPRODUCTION OF THE HUMAN VOICE EVER GIVEN TO THE WORLD.

The Patent Vox Jubilante.

This is a new and beautiful stop peculiar to the ESTEY ORGANS. The character of its tone is marked and wonderfully effective, and admits of a very desirable style of music in reed instruments.

The Patent Harmonic Attachment.

This is an Octave-Coupler used on a single Manual, which doubles the power of the instrument without necessitating an increase in the size or number of reeds.

The Patent Manual Sub-Bass.

The manner in which these reeds are placed on the air-chamber increases the volume of tone at least one-third.

The Patent Knee-Swell.

This Swell gives the player complete control of the instrument, and produces a perfect crescendo or diminuendo.

The Patent Organ Bellows.

This invention greatly enhances the power and quality of the tone, without increasing the size of the instrument.

The Patent Reed-Board.

This Reed-board gives the ESTEY ORGAN a vastly improved tone, making it much more like a pipe organ than any other in the market. It is an improvement of inestimable importance, and is covered by four patents.

The Patent Violetta.

This is a Solo Stop of great beauty, indispensable when an unusually soft and sweet tone is required to give proper expression to the music.

The Patent Reeds.

A number of very great improvements in Reeds has been perfected by Messrs. ESTEY & Co., which are readily discernable in the power, variety and beauty of tone characterising their Organs.

Improved Tone.

It is pre-eminently the QUALITY OF TONE that places the ESTEY ORGAN in advance of all others. It is a Reed Organ possessing the invaluable desideratum of a pipe-like tone, which is round, full and powerful, and yet capable of the most delicate articulation and shades of feeling. There is the same difference between the Reeds of the ESTEY ORGAN and those of other makers, that there is between a cultivated and an uncultivated human voice.

J. ESTEY & CO.'S

Cottage Organ Manufactory

Is situated on BIRGE STREET, in the beautiful Village of BRATTLEBORO, VERMONT. They consist of EIGHT MAIN FACTORIES, forty feet apart, one hundred feet long, and three stories high, and varying from thirty to thirty-eight feet in width, according to the work to be done in them.

The DRY HOUSES are in the rear, and are two in number, divided into various apartments, and of sufficient capacity to hold several hundred thousand feet of lumber, enough to ensure an ample supply of well-seasoned material at all times.

In the rear of Factory No. 4, is a FIRE-PROOF ENGINE AND BOILER HOUSE, containing six large boilers, of three hundred horse power, furnishing steam for the engine and heat for the buildings. The ENGINE is of the celebrated CORLISS patent, and of one hundred horse-power.

The PACKING, STORE and GAS HOUSES, and several other buildings for the use of and connected with the establishment, are situated about the works at convenient distances and form altogether the most complete system yet devised.

Everything within the reach of skill and capital has been done to secure the comfort, convenience and health of the workmen, and the safety, perfection, and economical working of the establishment.

Other improvements are being made, and buildings erected, to carry out the grand scheme projected by Messrs. ESTEY & Co., in order that they may be able to furnish organs in sufficient numbers to meet the pressing public demand.

THE ESTEY ORGAN MANUFACTORY is now the most extensive in the world, and gives constant employment to more than five hundred workmen. No other organ has gained an equal popularity, or been produced on such an extensive scale. Step by step, Messrs. ESTEY & Co. have advanced in the rapid march of progress, until it may be truly said that

The Estey Organ Leads the World!
